Selkirk Remembers

At 11am on Wednesday, November 11, everything stopped at Selkirk High School as we united, in our separate classes, to pay our respects to all those affected by conflict.

The student Head Team delivered a virtual assembly which featured images of conflicts past and present and footage of Andrew Cochrane S6 laying the wreath at Selkirk's war memorial on Sunday. Wonderful music was provided by a range of students including Alex Handyside S6 on the guitar, Maddy Cross S6 on the clarsach and Jamie Tuckwood S1 on the pipes. The last post was performed by Ryan Borthwick S3 and the Kohima prayer was read by Ashley Robertson.

The student Head Team had a special message this year as they considered the challenges every generation faces and how the pandemic was their challenge and, with resilience and respect, together we will overcome it. The two minutes of silence was impeccably observed by all students and headteacher Mr Bryson and all staff were, as ever, very proud indeed and it was lovely to know that many of our parents joined us virtually on facebook. Lest we forget.

Expressive arts

All year groups have been learning about Remembrance this week in art and design. We have been looking at the significance of the colours of a poppy through different art activities.

Some of the students taking part were Evie Stewart, Braelyn Hannay, Kiara Collins, Faye Kennedy, Erin Burnett, Jessica Maclaren and Nina Oliva. A special mention also goes to S3 for their creative ideas.
