Youngsters took part in the Young Musician competition

Young Musician competition

On Wednesday, November 23 the school hosted the Rotary Young Musician competition showcasing the musical talent from many of our pupils.

More than 20 of our pupils entertained and impressed the audience and judges on the night with competitors in the Junior, Senior, and Vocal sections. Thank you to our judges Lorraine Kemp, Mhairi Lafferty, and Robert Hoppe who had the difficult job of comparing the wide array of talent on display.

All performers played exceptionally but special congratulations to Iris Deane (Gala Academy), Amber Gilmour (Selkirk HS), Ryan Borthwick (Selkirk HS) for winning the Junior, Vocal, and Senior sections. They will now go onto the next heat competing against musicians from across the Borders.

Maths

The Pupils of the Month of November for Mathematics are:
S1: Ronan Veitch, Neil MacLennan and Kian Gallagher
S2: Liam Allison, Joseph Agate and Sadie Oliver

S3: Matilda Robbie, Gracie Turnbull and Callum Hewson
S4: Mhairi Connor, Liam Charlesworth and Anna Vause
S5: Ellen Douglas, Alisha Lyle, Josh Allan and Lucy Robbie
S6: Huize Huang

You have all been brilliant. Well done from the Maths department.

Lamb for St Andrew's Day

The Institute of Auctioneers and Appraisers Scotland have been running an initiative to encourage us to eat lamb for St Andrew's Day. As part of this they supply schools with lamb to give pupils the opportunity to cook with lamb.

This year the recipes suggested were lamb Dhansak and lamb naan pizza.

On Wednesday (St Andrew's Day) some of our S3 pupils were cooking the lamb Dhansak and really enjoyed their dishes.

Art

Well done to our Artists of the week.

S1 - Alice Forsyth and Charlie Tierney, for their fantastic model making in skills.

S2 - Brooke Laurie and Ava Proudfoot, for their progress on their animal drawings (unfinished).

S3 - Macy Ross and Eifa Laing, for their portraiture/still life units. Seniors - Nina Oliva and Felix Baxter, for their expressive folio-work.

Amazing work in the art department this week, well done everyone.
