Read all about it

April 15 saw the 111th anniversary of the sinking of the Titanic and last term in their English periods all S1 students became journalists to report on the disaster. After investigating the timeline of events, creating eyewitness accounts and debating who was to blame, they created newspaper front pages reporting on events. As you can see, they produced very professional-looking front pages with attention-grabbing headlines, detailed information and impressive layouts. Maybe in a few years, some could be writing for this very paper - watch this space!

Singing Showcase Event

On Thursday, April 20 we held a singing showcase to share the vocal talents of our pupils. As part of this event, Amber Gilmour completed the final performance for her SQA Performance Award by singing a series of advanced songs from different musical genres. The evening also featured performances from the school choir, a duet from Anna & Nica (S1), a group of S3 singers, and a solo from Bobbie Turner (S6). The "Singing Showcase" served as a platform for our students to express their love for music and share their abilities with the school community. We extend our gratitude to everyone who attended and supported the event, as well as the students and staff members who contributed to its success. Let's continue to celebrate and nurture the artistic spirit within our school!
