

SCHOOL NOTICEBOARD: SELKIRK HIGH SCHOOL

...All the latest news straight from the classroom

52 pupils created tote bags as part of their creative textiles lessons.

Humanities pupils enjoyed a day trip to Edinburgh.

Humanities pupils' trip to Edinburgh

LAST week, senior humanities students enjoyed a fantastic day trip to Edinburgh.

The higher geography class visited Dynamic Earth where they took part in a microclimates workshop, developing fieldwork skills which will help with their assignment.

They also took in an awe-inspiring show at the Dynamic Earth planetarium!

Higher history students spent the morning in the National Museum, researching their Scottish topic by studying primary sources in the excellent Industry and Empire exhibit.

This was followed by a trip to the National Gallery to look at some notable paintings, including relevant works by Sir David Wilkie.

The travel and tourism class enjoyed an action-packed tour of many of the city's major attractions, including the National Museum, Edinburgh Castle, Camera Obscura and Holyrood.

They gathered brochures and information which will help them plan a holiday to Edinburgh, thereby completing a core outcome in their Scotland topic.

Sewing lessons

Some of our S2s have just finished their creative textiles rota where they have been learning to use the sewing machine.

Pupils have been making tote bags with appliqué on the front.

Rights Respecting School

We are delighted to confirm that Selkirk High School has achieved the UNICEF Silver Rights Respecting School Accreditation.

We would like to say a massive well done to all of our staff and students who contribute to making Selkirk High School a positive and supportive environment for all.

A special mention must go to the Pupil Parliament and ESAS group for leading change in the school - we would not have achieved this recognition without their hard work and amazing ideas.

OUT AND ABOUT: Humanities pupils enjoyed a day trip to Edinburgh. Images: Selkirk High School

Humanities pupils enjoyed a day trip to Edinburgh.

52 pupils created tote bags as part of their creative textiles lessons.

Humanities pupils enjoyed a day trip to Edinburgh.